Copied from a manuscript Book written by the late Isaac Coffin Esq. Judge of Probate which he wrote in 1815.

Thomas Macy removed to Nantucket from Salisbury in the year 1639 in the fall with his family. Edward Starbuck also came with him, who were the first white people we have any record of that came to Nantucket.

Edward's wife and family & several other families came here from Salisbury in the year 1660 at which time there were about 3000 Indians who manifested a friendly disposition towards the first settlers of the whites and treated them with great hospitality, and invited them to purchase a part of their land. The whites accordingly accepted their offer & purchased of the Indian Sachems Wammack Mammack, Nickanose, Jephtha and other Sachems by fair deeds of conveyance & made fair payments without any fraud or force, & to the satisfaction of the Indian Sachems at that time. Many years afterwards when the Island became more settled by the whites, the Indians were led into the baneful practise of drinking ardent spirits to excess, which at length created much uneasiness with many of the Indians, who by the assistance of the whites complained to the General Court of the ill usage of the whites in the purchase of their land. The Court deputized one of their judges to come here and hear their complaints, which after a fair hearing, & the Records produced, It was the Judgment of the Court that the Whites had bought their land fairly & advised the Indians to be quiet, who afterward became peaceable.

The Indian Inhabitants after the Whites settled here, decreased very fast so that in the year 1763 it did not appear that more than 358 remained out of 3000 at which time a contagious disease took place among them called the yellow fever or Plague which swept off the greater part of them. The sickness began on the 16th of 8th mo. 1763 & ceased 16th 2<sup>d</sup> mo. 1764.

34 were sick and recovered

36 lived among them & did not take the sickness

8 escaped the sickness by living at the West End of the Island

40 lived among the English & escaped the sickness

18 were at sea at the time.

222 fell victims to the fever.

358 The whole number before the sickness.

In 1808. 4th mo. only 2 native Indians remain.

In the year 1690 Ichabod Paddock came here from Cape Cod to instruct the English how to kill Whales in boats from the shore, which was the principal way of procuring oil for many years & was carried on with great success until about 1760, when it began to decrease by reason of the scarcity of the whales.

About the year 1726 was the period when the whales were most numerous. In that year 86 whales were obtained

It may be remarked, that notwithstanding it was a new business and the Inhabitants had it all to learn by experience that in the course of 70 years preceding 1760 not one white person was killed or drowned, in pursuing the whaling business from the shore. —

When the English first came to Nantucket the shores abounded with blue fish, so large that 30 or 35 would fill a barrel, they generally set in about the first of the 6th month and continued until the last of the 9th month. In the year 1763, when the sickness took place among the Indians, the Blue fish drew off, and very few if any have been caught since.

Note they returned about the year 1830 and have been quite plenty since that period.

On the 16th of 8 mo. August 1763 a contagious disease took place on the Island of Nantucket among the native Indians called the yellow Fever, which spread its devastations in a surprising manner & continued until the 2<sup>d</sup> mo. 1764 - during the time it swept off 223 & left 136 survivors, there having been previous to the sickness 359 including all that belonged here - What is most remarkable the sickness was confined to the natives, not one white person was afflicted therewith, which enabled them to render such assistance as their distressing situation required, by visiting them daily, & furnishing suitable provisions and clothing, & assisting them in burying their dead, all which was attended to with particular care.

Thomas Macy the first that we have any knowledge of was born in Chilmark in Wiltshire in England. He married Sarah Hopcot and moved with her and family to Salisbury in the County of Essex and Province of Massachusetts Bay in New England in 1638. He lived there about 20 or 21 years and by Industry and labor acquired a good property in the farming line. He moved to this island in the autumn of 1659 in a large open boat with his family accompanied by Edward Starbuck, here they lived in harmony with the Indians the only people on the Island except his household. They landed at Maticat where they built a house and resided for some time Thomas afterwards removed to watercomet the Pond Field

one child died single 7 of 3 mo. 1730

The first Ancestor of the Coffin family from whom we have an unbroken line of descent was Peter Coffin of the Parish of Brixton, 4 miles from Plymouth in Devonshire England. He married Joan Thember by whom he had four children Tristram, John Jr. Eunice & Mary. John Senr & his son John both died in England. In the year 1642 Tristram Coffin with his wife Dionis (Stephens) his mother and two sisters Eunice & Mary and 4 children Peter, Tristram, Elizabeth and James; thence moved the same year to Flaverhill, where his name appears on the Indian deed of that town Nov. 15. 1642. There he resided and had two children more Mary & John, then moved to Newbury and resided about 12 years: Here his youngest son Stephen, was born, in 1652. In 1658 or 9 he moved to Salisbury, where on Sept. 2<sup>d</sup>, he with 8 others purchased nine tenths of the Island of Nantucket of Thomas Mayhew. These shares were subsequently divided into 27 Shares 6 of which were owned by Tristram Coffin's family. In 1659 Thomas Macy or Macye as his name is spelt in the Records of Newbury where he first settled, was the first Englishman who settled in Nantucket. With him in the same year, went for the purpose of killing game Daget from Martha's Vineyard, Edward Starbuck and James Coffin, who in 1663 Dec. 3. married Mary Severance of Salisbury, and had 14 children.

In 1645 Tristram Coffin was allowed to keep an ordinary sell wine, and keep a ferry on Newbury side of the Merrimack. He was therefore the first inholder in the Newtown of Newbury and the first ferryman on the Newbury side of the river. In 1660 Tristram Coffin with his wife and four children, John, James, Stephen and Mary went to Nantucket, where he died in 1681 aged 76 yrs. His son Peter he left with Major Richard Waldron of Dover, his daughter Elizabeth with her husband, Capt. Stephen Greenleaf, and Tristram with Henry Somerby, both of Newbury. The house in which he lived is still standing, and has been the residence of seven generations of the same name. The posterity of Tristram Coffin sem.

is unusually numerous. The names of more than 12,000 descendants can be ascertained, some of whom are found in England, in all the British dominions & in every state in the union.

The Hussey Family

Capt. Christopher Hussey the father of my grandfather ~~the father of my Grandfather Stephen Hussey~~ was born in 1598 the town of Dorking, in Surry County in Great Britain, about twenty three miles from London. He made suit to a young woman by the name of Bachelder in Holland whose father had removed there some time before from England, and was a clergyman, and was then about removing with his family to America. And he would not give his consent for the said Hussey to marry his daughter unless he should remove with her to America, which he did and settled in the town of Lynn, County of Essex, Massachusetts Bay in New England. Here the said Bachelder settled as Minister of the town, and at so early a period of the settlement of said town that my grandfather Stephen Hussey was the second child born in said town, and the one that was born before him was born in the same week. When on the first day of the week they were carried to Church to be christened, and the other being born first, was first offered to the Minister, but he put it by with his hand, and reached out for the Hussey child, saying, I will Christen my own child first — Hence arose the saying that has been so often used since.
(The said Christopher Hussey the father of my grandfather Stephen Hussey was cast away upon the X in 1685 or 87 according to Lewis

This cast away story is doubtless all a Romance.

43

Cape Florida, and was devoured by the Cannibal natives who at that day inhabited that coast. He bore the character of a gentleman perhaps equal to any that lived at that day. The said Christopher's wife's name was Theodate, hence the name of Theodate Johnson deceased, and of my cousin Theodate Gardner wife of Reuben, and one or two off the Island in my uncle Gorham's family. She had one sister named Deborah who married a Wing, and from thence sprang the Sandwich Wings. Said Christopher had one son besides Stephen named John who removed with his family or a part of them and settled I think in the Jerseys, which consisted of daughters as he had no sons that I have any knowledge of, but a great many daughters, one of whom married a Swett in the Eastern part, three of whose daughters married at Nantucket viz. Mary md. John Swain the third and was mother to Francis Swain & brethren, Deliverance married Solomon Coleman and was mother to Daniel Coleman and Brethren. Huldah married Benjamin Coleman and was mother of Shubael Coleman and Brethren. Another of said John Hussey's daughters married a Stanyan, whose daughter Mary was married here to George Newbegin and was mother to James Newbegin. Respecting his family in the western part, I am ignorant about them, but he gave me a particular account of what he knew about them. —

44.
My said grandfather Stephen Hussey had besides his brother John, two sisters<sup>one</sup> named Huldah and the other I have forgotten the name of, but one of them married a Smith and the other a Dow, the families of which I have but little knowledge about, but suppose without question Henry Dow to be a descendant of her who married a Dow. — My grandmother the wife of the said Stephen Hussey was Martha Bunker daughter of George and Jane Bunker (Originally Godfrey) from England but I do not know particularly from what part of England.

Their children were Elizabeth she married a Look of the Vineyard from whom are a numerous family there, Mary married Stephen Coffin, Ann married Joseph Coleman, Martha married Stephen Hussey above mentioned from whom are numerous descendants as well as from a son named W<sup>m</sup> Bunker from whom all of the name of Bunker on Nantucket are descended. After the decease of George Bunker in the Eastern parts, the said Jane Bunker his widow married Richard Swain and came with him and his family to Nantucket, and she is the first person recorded to have died here <sup>being</sup> in the year 1662. Two years after the settlement of the island by the Whites. She had one son by the said Richard Swain named Richard Jr. who with his family moved from here and settled in the Jerseys I think of the descendants of whom I expect there are many

An Inland Shipyard

Capt. Thomas Bunker, who had been a seafaring man of Bluehill Bay, getting tired of the farm he had cleared on the Charleston highlands, told his grown-up sons they might have the farm and welcome if they would only build him a fishing vessel in which he might go back to sailing on the blue sea. They agreed and built it right there in their own farmyard—a nice, taunt, handsome ship, fifty feet long, and of thirty tons burden, and painted the name of their mother, the captain's wife, under the stern "the Betsey." This was seventy years ago. One summer morning the voyage to Bangor was begun. "The Betsey" had been lifted up with jack-screws and put on twelve wheels or trucks sawed off from a big birch tree. A team of twenty yokes of oxen was attached to the prow, and Col. John Dunning was master of ceremonies. Three days were occupied getting to Bangor, and it was an ovation along the whole route. From far and near the people—men, women, and children—gathered to see "the Betsey" sail by on dry land. The farmers brought out the mugs of cider to treat the red-shirted teamsters, and altogether it was a unique spectacle. The strange team rolled down Union street in Bangor, and straight on across Main street, down to the ferry slip. There the trucks were run down to the water's edge, and when the tide came in the "Betsey" floated off as haughtily and proudly as if she had never been a landsman in her life. Capt. Bunker, says one of his sons, sailed successfully in this strangely built vessel for twenty years, and then sold her. Her name was changed, and she was lost by being wrecked on the Maine coast only four years ago.—Lewiston Journal. 1897.
